

GSA Readiness Assessment

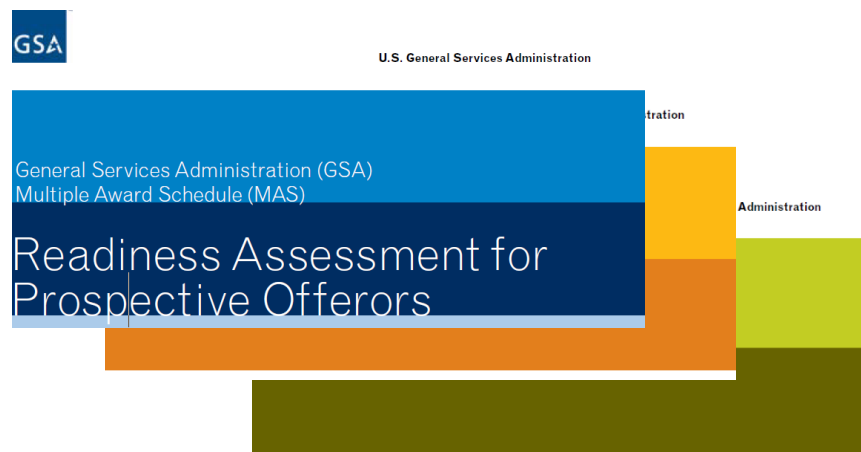

Do you Qualify? Are you Ready?

Billions of dollars are awarded through GSA Schedules every year, because Federal buyers overwhelmingly prefer to buy from contractors who have pre-approved contracts.

However, not every company is ready or aware of what is involved in being a GSA Schedule contractor.

GSA has developed a mandatory Readiness Assessment to assist companies with evaluating their potential success in the Federal market and whether they are prepared for a GSA Schedule. Whether you are just beginning to think about GSA Schedules or have made the decision to pursue getting on GSA Schedule, you need the Readiness Assessment and we can help.

We know the Federal market and will complete the research and analysis required to complete the Readiness Assessment. We will then sit down with your leaders to explain the findings, your prospect of success with GSA and the contract compliance requirements of schedule ownership.
